Jenny Smith

Board of Trustees

Jenny Smith is a Colorado Springs attorney who practices energy law. She has experience across a range of energy-law matters, including natural gas, renewables, and electric generation, transmission, and distribution.

Jenny is recognized as a natural leader among her peers and is respected for her legal acumen. During her private practice, she was named a Texas Rising Star by Super Lawyers and received the Texas Tech University School of Law Alumni Association Rising Star Award, along with other honors from the Texas Young Lawyers Association.

Jenny has a daughter in the Lower School at CSS. Outside of work, she enjoys spending time with her family, hiking, being outdoors, reading, and baking.
